To the Reader.

I Cannot forbear telling you, that the ensuing Catalogue contains very near a Compleat-Set of the Fathers, and Ecclesiastical Historians, both Greek and Latin; also the best of the Lexicographers, Prophane Historians, Civilians, Philosophers, Classical and Polite Authors, well condition'd, and many of them of the Largest Paper and Extraordinary Binding: Nor are the English in the least inferiour to those in the Learned Languages; they being a Collection of the most Learned and Judicious Authors, who have honour'd our Language by their Writings.

It contains besides, not only all the most Scarce and Valuable Law-books, but Duplicates of several of the rarest of them. And for the Manuscripts, they are undoubtedly what the Catalogue pretends them to be; for in the taking their Titles I had the assistance of a learned Gentleman, who knew them very well when in the hands of their Owners.

These Libraries have this further uncommon Ex-cellsncy, that they are not allay'd with the useles and trifling Books that usually fill undertakings of this kind.

To Conclude, The Reader is hereby invited to confirm himself in the belief of what I have said, by a view of them Three Days before the Sale begins, when they will find them made ready for their sight, by their Humble Servant

John Bullord.
